

Lynn Fitch
ATTORNEY GENERAL

Parents, Be Informed!

- ▶ 7 out of 10 pills laced with Fentanyl contains a lethal dose. It only takes 1 time taking 1 unknown pill to kill.
- ▶ Fentanyl concentration can vary even within the same batch of pills. Just because one is safe, doesn't mean they all are.
- ▶ Teach your kids to be cautious of pills not provided by a doctor or pharmacist, especially if purchased through social media.
- ▶ Talk to your kids about how to administer naloxone—it could save a life.

Common Counterfeits:

*Pill depiction courtesy of the DEA.

REAL XANAX

VS. COUNTERFEIT

REAL ADDERALL

VS. COUNTERFEIT

REAL OXYCODONE

VS. COUNTERFEIT

One Pill Can Kill

Educate | Support | Empower

AttorneyGeneralLynnFitch.com/OnePill

Fake is Fatal.

“Emojis are a common way for kids to communicate with each other or with dealers about drugs. Understanding what they may mean can help you know when your child might be in trouble and need you to start a serious conversation with them.”

-Attorney General Lynn Fitch

Emojis to Know:

Fake Prescription Drugs

Percocet & Oxycodone

Adderall

Xanax

Dealer Signals

Dealer Advertising

High Potency

Universal for Drugs

Deliver/Mail Drugs

Large Batch

Other Drugs

Meth

Heroin

MDMA/Mollies

Marijuana

Cough Syrup

Cocaine

Mushrooms

Fentanyl

For more up-to-date information and resources on how to better protect your family from the dangers of fentanyl, including how you can obtain naloxone:

